We'll start the day by meeting a local street art expert to explore one of London's most vibrant areas and discover the alternative scenes of fashionable East London. We'll learn the history of the East End as you walk down streets covered in street art. Expect a unique insight into the urban art and graffiti culture of the area. Discover street art from around 40 artists, including ROA, Stik, Borondo, Cranio, and many more. Street art by its nature is constantly changing, which in turn means that these tours evolve on a regular basis.

We will then do some shopping around Boxpark and see what the pop-up stores inside shipping containers have on offer. We will then walk to Brick Lane (while admiring all the street art) to shop at some of the best vintage stores in London. We can even explore some of the most Instagrammable markets, like Spitalfields and Columbia Flower Market.

Day 6: Sunday, September 15 - London Market Tour & Farewell Dinner

On our last day in the city, we'll hit up any markets that we've missed.

London's street markets are amongst the finest and most eclectic in Europe: from the boho chic of the world-famous Portobello market, to the smorgasbord of culinary delights to be encountered at Borough Market, to the Rock N Roll enthused Camden Market, all tastes are catered for. The roots of many of the modern London street markets date back to the Middle Ages, so a visit to an outdoor London market makes for not only a fun shopping trip, but also a fascinating cultural and historical experience as well. If you are looking for clothing, housewares, crafts, antiques, vintage finds, food, or just about anything else you can imagine.

- Borough Market (Stop: 60 minutes)
- Leadenhall Market (Stop: 60 minutes)
- New Covent Garden Market (Stop: 60 minutes)

HOST

Hayley Matthews-Jones

Hayley moved from London to Minneapolis, MN in 2008, and is the Founder and CEO of Minneapolis Craft Market and Minneapolis Vintage Market. Between the two markets she hosts more than 120 live events per year featuring 2,000 small businesses and artists, as well as a fully integrated digital marketplace where shoppers can buy handmade products from designers and makers of the North.

Hayley is also the COO of The Get Down Coffee Company, a roastery and café bringing diversity to specialty coffee in North Minneapolis. Founded during the civil uprisings after the murder of George Floyd in the summer of 2020, The Get Down is using coffee to foster cultural collision and diversify an industry that is typically neither welcoming nor diverse once the raw product is imported into the US. The Get Down flagship café opened in Camden town, Minneapolis in November of 2021, with beans available in select Target stores and on Target.com.

Minneapolis Craft Market received Twin Cities Metro Independent Business Association's inaugural Best Emerging Business award in 2016, Twin Cities Business Magazine's Most Likely to Succeed in Retail, 2017, and Hayley was named Special Events Planner of The Year by Minnesota Meetings and Events Magazine, and one of Minneapolis/St. Paul Business Journal's 40 Under 40, 2020.
